Quads On Forest Service Roads

Contrary to belief the use of any motorized vehicle other than a street legal vehicle is prohibited on Forest Service roads. In addition, if you operate a legal vehicle on Forest Service roads you must have in your possession a current vehicle operator's license.

Pursuant to 36 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations), section 261.50(b), the following act is prohibited on Forest Development roads within the Wenatchee and Okanogan National Forests:

*Operating any vehicle in violation of state law established for public highways.*36CFR 261.54(d)

Pursuant to 36 CFR section 261.50(e), the following persons are exempt from this order:

Persons with a permit specifically authorizing the prohibited act of omission.

Any Federal, State or local officer or member of an organized rescue or firefighting force in the performance of an official duty.

Violation of this prohibition is punishable by a fine of not more than $5000 or imprisonment for not more than six months.

Any vehicle using a Forest Service road must be street legal and licensed by the State. A street legal vehicle must have all the following: left and right mirrors, rearview mirror, street legal tires, specific wheel base, head and taillights, brake lights, plus turn signals.

Forest Protection Officers and designated personnel and the Sheriff's Office will enforce this order. If you are caught riding a quad you will be cited according to statute, which for a Notice of Violation carries a $100 fine.

Interagency Annual Pass

(for persons of any age)
($80.00/year)

The Annual Pass is an entrance pass to those national parks, monuments, historic sites, recreation areas, and national wildlife refuges that charge entrance fee.

The Annual Pass admits the pass holder and any accompanying passengers in a private vehicle. Where entry is not by private vehicle, the passport admits the pass holder and 3 adults. (Children 15 and under are free)

The Annual Pass does not cover or reduce use fees, such as fees for camping, swimming, parking, boat launching, or cave tours. It is valid for entrance fees only.

On the Naches Ranger District, the Annual Pass is honored ONLY at Northwest Forest Pass sites. This pass is NOT honored at concessionaire operated sites/services or at Forest Service managed campgrounds on the Naches Ranger District. The Annual Pass is good for a 12-month period starting with the date of purchase and ending the last day of the purchase month one year later.

It permits unlimited entries to all federal entrance fee areas. Those who plan several visits to areas that charge entrance fees may save money by buying the Annual Pass rather than paying single visit entrance fees.

Although it is not replaceable, refundable, or transferable, the Annual Pass may be purchased as a gift. It must be validated by the signature of the holder.

How Do I Get One?

An Annual Pass may be purchased at any federal area where a entrance fee is charged for $80.00 or at a National Forest Ranger District office.

Campgrounds operated by Hoodoo Recreation, under contract with Forest Service, require reservations. Six group sites and two recreation rentals managed by the Forest Service requires reservations. All other Forest Service managed campgrounds are on a first come, first served basis. (Discounts do not apply when reserving group sites or recreational rentals).

When requesting reservations, specify CAMP NAME and NATIONAL FOREST NAME. Many facilities have the same name but are located in different districts. Your arrival and departure dates, type of site required (tent, RV, cabin, lookout, etc.), your address and phone number, method of payment, VISA, MasterCard, AMEX and Discover will be required.

Family campsites may be reserved 240 days ahead of the day of arrival. Group campsites may be reserved 360 days ahead.

A reservation fee is added on to the camping fee which is charged to the person making the reservation and all nights booked must be paid for at the time of making reservation.

You may cancel and receive a full refund, minus the reservation fee and cancellation fee. You will also pay a penalty equal to first night's reservation if you cancel 13 days or less in advance of use.

If you have an Interagency/Golden Senior or Interagency/Golden Access Pass, they provide you with a 50% discount for individual campsites. They do not provide any discount on group sites or recreational rentals. Customers using one of these passes or passports are required to present the pass or passport and one form of identification to confirm the discount upon arrival at the site. To make a reservation go to Recreation.gov or call 1-877-444-6777.

Dispersed Camping Areas

Dispersed camping opportunities are found near roads, outside developed campgrounds and in the Wilderness. These areas do not have developed recreation facilities but provide outstanding camping. To make it possible for others to enjoy the unique beauty of special places, please follow these rules.

DO NOT create new roads or trails. Carrying an axe, shovel, and bucket will help you abide by dispersed camping rules.

Avoid making noise which can disturb other campers or wildlife.

PETS: If you bring a pet, keep it restrained to show respect for your camping neighbors and wildlife. Unsupervised pet are not encouraged within National Forests.

34. Cleaning or washing any personal property, fish, animal, or food at a hydrant or at a water faucet not provided for that purpose. (36 CFR 261.14c)
35. Placing in or near a stream, lake, or other water any substance which does or may pollute a stream, lake, or other water. (36 CFR 261.11c)
36. Depositing in any toilet, toilet vault, or plumbing fixture, any bottle, can, cloth, rag, metal, wood, stone, flammable liquid, or other substance which could damage or interfere with the operation or maintenance of the fixture. (36 CFR 261.11a)

32. Mutilating, defacing, removing, disturbing, injuring or destroying any natural feature or any property of the United States. (36 CFR 261.9a)

FIRES: A small fire minimizes damage to the ground and conserves firewood. Do not cut green trees or branches for fuel as they burn poorly and smoke. Leave all plants, shrubs, trees, and standing snags undisturbed to preserve a sense of naturalness, free from the scars of your camping.

Standing snags and down trees are the homes of important wildlife.

WASTE DISPOSAL: Dispose of all waste water, human waste, fish entrails, and unsightly toilet paper at least 100 feet from shorelines. Bury human waste and toilet paper in a hole at least 6 to 8 inches deep. Washing away from shoreline insures that you and the next visitor will have clean water. Pack home all camping gear, litter, or debris which resulted from your camping activity.

- Food wastes should be completely burned or packed out.
- Remember that aluminum foil does not burn.

TRAILS AND ROADS: Avoid trail use when the tread cannot withstand your impact. Switchback shortcutting destroys fragile vegetation and may ultimately erode the trail tread.

Motorized vehicles must stay on designated roads and trails.

- Avoid wheel impacts to un-trailed meadows, streams, and stream banks.
- Avoid clearing or developing new trails or roads.

American River Guard Station History

The American River Guard Station was built in 1941 as a summer residence and work site for fire patrol and recreation management personnel. The builders were men of the 932nd Camp Naches Civilian Conservation Corps crew. A rear addition to house, including a bathroom and water heater, laundry and sink room, was added at a later time. The guard station was still occupied by Naches Ranger District personnel in the summers through the 1960s, but its principal use in these later years was as a bunkhouse rather than a work station. Typically two or three seasonal employees lived here in the summer and commuted roughly twelve miles east every morning to the Ranger Station. Forest Service use of the cabin declined in the late 1970s. Volunteers and people granted permits sporadically used the cabin, but it has largely remained vacant. In 1999 the cabin was found eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. Restoration of the cabin began in 2004.

Discription

The Depression-era rustic cabin is one and a half stories tall, with a wood frame and shake roof. Recently refurbished and freshly painted, it has a small kitchen, a living/sleeping area, and a bedroom, as well as a full sized sleeping loft and storage room. The clean and comfortable cabin is furnished with many amenities: a dining table and chairs for six people, a full-sized sleeper sofa, a twin bed and mattress, a wood stove, light fixtures and portable electric heaters. The kitchen is equipped with a coffee maker, pots, dishes and glassware. A picnic table and fire ring is located near the cabin. The original two-seater outhouse has recently been restored. There is no water at the cabin; visitors must bring plenty for drinking, cooking and washing. (In the summer, drinking water can be obtained from the nearby Cedar Spring Campground.) The cabin contains a variety of cleaning supplies (broom, dustpan, mop and bucket, sponges, cleansers). All food and garbage must be removed to help deter rodents. In the summer, waste disposal is provide by a dumpster in the nearby American Forks Campground. When the campground is closed for the season, visitors must "pack it out and home".

Area Attractions & Activities

Local opportunities to hike, boat, view nature and bird watch, fish, hunt, auto-tour and enjoy winter activities abound. Douglas](#) and Norse Peak Wilderness areas, off-road vehicle and snowmobile opportunities in the Little Naches drainage, and snow-shoeing and cross-crossing skiing opportunities in the American River area.
